8:00a - 6:00p: How the game of "Summing" should be played: this game has 81 squares, with nine in each column and in each row. The game begins with seven inside rows and columns of randomly selected numbers, from 0 through 9, surrounded by an outside ring of

8:05a - 9:05a: 32 blank squares. The object is to match numbers from 1 to 9 into any blank square, and if they are without any other number as its direct neighbor, they will disappear from the game board. A zero only needs to be surrounded by blank squares without

8:10a - 9:10a: another zero as its direct neighbor. Those zeros also disappear from the game board! (Each time a number replaces a blank square, one point is scored up to a maximum of 999 points.) Play continues until all 81 squares are filled, ending the game.

8:15a - 9:15a: As an option you can play until no numbers are left, or you can try to resstrict it to ten numbers with each digit from 0 to 9 appearing only once. In both cases the game would be over until you start a new game of Summing.

Tetravex 1.0

Description: Tetravex est un jeu de puzzle à comparer avec des dominos à 4 faces. Le but est de transférer les pièces de la grille en bas-droite vers la grille en haut-gauche. Les pièces peuvent bouger librement dans la grille inférieure alors qu'elles sont contraintes par la juxtaposition de numéros identiques sur chaque face dans la partie supérieure. La partie inférieure est donc votre pioche et la partie supérieure est donc votre but. La navigation entre les 2 grilles se fait grâce aux touches L et R.

Tetravex est une version GBA de l'excellente version du même jeu que l'on peut trouver sous Linux (Gnotravex par Lars Rydlinge), duquel j'ai honteusement copié la structure de données ☺. Merci à lui !!!

Description: Tetravex is a puzzle game like a 4-sided dominos. The aim is to send all the shapes from the lower-right grid to the upper-left one. Shapes can freely move in the lower area. Conversely, in the upper grid, they are constrainted by a correct matching of numbers on each side. The lower-right area is then your pool, and the upper-left your aim. Switching between the 2 areas is done using the L/R keys.

Tetravex is a GBA version of the excellent same game that can me found under Linux (Gnotravex by Lars Rydlinge), from which I shamely copied the basic datastructure ☺. Thank's to him !!!

Power Tips
• In Calendar Day View, press Left/Right on the navigator to move backward and forward one day at a time. To move an event to another day or time, tap Details and change the day or time there.
• In Note Pad, Tasks, and Memos, you don't have to tap New to create a new record; just start writing. In Note Pad, this creates a title for a new note or drawing. In Calendar, this creates a new UNTIMED event.
• To create a new TIMED event, just write the time in the Writing number area.
• To set up your business card for beaming, go to Contacts and select your own name & address. Tap Menu. Then tap Select Business Card.
• To quickly find an application icon in the Home view, switch to the All category and use Graffiti 2 writing to write the first letter of the application's title. The icons with titles starting with that letter spring to view.
• Want to change your alarm sounds? In Calendar and Note Pad, choose Preferences from the Options.

To reset new copiers, open doors, customize copier, and shut doors.

To change staples, open tray, pull out empty container, and replace it with new staples.

To change size of paper, slide plastic tray from 8.5 x 11, to 8.5 x 14. The display screen will identify the changed paper size.

Scanning papers is optional, and therefore not required each time.

Clients' code numbers will be available soon; copiers will automatically turn off if not used after 4 hours.

To scan address books, press 'Address Book,' then '1.'

E-mails from a copier may not function--at least without Internet access.

To make color-copied pages, set "Color," or as an option, select one color, such as red or blue. (Are we working for Pittsburgh Paints?) When one color--the choices are cyan, yellow, magenta and black--is running short in its contents, a pop-up message will tell you which colors need to be refilled.

To 2-hole or 3-hole punch, press its appropriate button.

One tray holds a maximum of 275 sheets of paper.

If there is a a paper jam, slide left part of copier and remove sheets as showing on display--which should be flashing circles.

On the copiers' display screens there is a button that tells you to collate. Disable the 'collate' option if shown.

When we print copies that require 11 x 17, scanning can be changed from color to grayscale. There will be new accumulators that will be optimized to six digits, and the first number will be restricted to 1 through 9. (No zeros required.)

For codes press 'input,' followed by number, and 'enter,' and 'access.' You will log in and out through access. Enter ECM code, press #, and then 'Start.'
